30-Yard Sand Wedge Shot

Setup

Grab your sand wedge. Ball in the middle of your stance, weight slightly forward. This isn’t a full swing—it’s a short, controlled motion with soft hands and smooth tempo.

Swing Cue

Focus on hitting down slightly through the ball. Take just a bit of turf after contact and let the club do the work. You're not trying to lift it—you're delivering it with rhythm and trust.

What to Notice

The goal is a clean, predictable shot that lands soft and stops close. This is one of the most important shots for beginners. Master it and your short game transforms overnight.
