Driving the Golf Cart: Leadership, Safety, and Business Etiquette

Key Concepts Covered

- The person driving the golf cart often sets the tone for the round-it's a subtle leadership role.
- If your client or colleague wants to drive and has experience, let them-it shows trust and respect.
- As a passenger, you can focus more on your game and the business relationship.
- Golf cart safety is crucial-respect the course and protect everyone involved.

Pro Tips

- Drive at a safe speed-especially on hills and turns to avoid tipping.
- Stay on cart paths and avoid getting too close to greens and tee boxes.
- Don't text, scroll, or use your phone while driving the cart.
- Avoid steep slopes-always park on level ground to prevent rollback.
- If alcohol is involved, assign a sober cart driver for the day.
